HANFT HOLDS FOR THE UNIVERSITY REGENTS

ATTACKS ACT CREATING THE "BIG THREE"

LATTER OFFICIALLY KNOWN AS STATE COMMISSION OF ADMIN-ISTRATION AND FINANCE

CLAIMS CHAPTER 426, LAWS OF 1915, APPLYING THERETO,
IS ENTIRELY VOID

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—(UP)—“No such power was ever conceded by the people to czar or iron chancellor,” was an expression used by Judge Frank O. Hanft, Ramsey county district court, in his decision handed down today in the case brought by the University of Minnesota board of regents to test the constitutionality of the state reorganization act of 1925, creating the so-called “Big Three,” officially the state commission of administration and finance.

“Insofar as Chapter 426, laws of 1925, attempts to endow the commission of administration and finance with power to supervise and control a constitutional officer, department or agency, invested with certain powers and discretion, and acting within the scope of the powers granted and discretion conferred,” said Judge Hanft, “the act is void.”

The decision is one of the most sweeping and far-reaching in its consequences of any handed down relative to state governmental affairs in a generation or more, political leaders said today.

Judge Hanft held for the university regents on both major points directly involved, by overruling the demurrer to the petition for writ of mandamus to compel Ray P. Chase, state auditor, to approve the voucher for $50 in question, on the ground that the facts stated in the petition do not constitute a cause of action, and on the order to show cause why the writ should not be issued.

The decision held: That the reorganization act of 1925 is void insofar as it attempts to endow the “Big Three” with power to supervise and control any constitutional officer, department or agency.

That the board of regents is a public corporation, “the highest form of juristic persons known to the law,” a constitutional body of independent authorities, co-ordinating with and equal to that of the legislature.

That “even repeated so-called ‘practical construction’ cannot be allowed to sanction a clear infraction of the constitution, as it relates to the corporate powers of the university and the board of regents.”

That the law in question does not mention the university, in no way affects it and does not confer any authority to the Big Three, itself merely a creation of the legislature, to exercise any control whatever over the university or the board of regents, a creation of the people through the constitution.

That “upon presentation of the legal voucher by the comptroller of the university, it was the duty of the defendant, as state auditor, to draw his warrant upon the treasurer for payment of same.”

Judge Hanft’s decision covers more than 58 typewritten pages. It was apparent today that an appeal to the state supreme court would be taken.

“Sooner or later,” says Judge Hanft in his opinion, “the struggle between the forces that since the days of the organization of the territory of Minnesota, through the constitutional convention and to the present date have endeavored to put the university, through its board of regents, under political control, and those who desire to see it free therefrom, must be settled.”

“The same political struggle occurred in every state which has placed its university and board in the constitution.”

“Although the board of regents has appeared, either directly or indirectly, as litigants or interested parties in four cases in this state, in none of them has its exact status under Art. 8, Sec. 4, of the constitution ever been determined by the supreme court.”

“The present litigation, by pleadings and argument, squarely places before the court every phase and angle of its status in law, and should be as squarely met by the court. That this court has attempted to do.”

Getting back to the direct point at issue in his particular case, Judge Hanft pointed out that the state constitution provides for a state auditor to be elected by the people and said he has now “all the powers of such officer at the time the constitution was adopted. This includes,

NO EXTENSION OF TIME ON AUTO LICENSES

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 8.—(UP)—There will be no extension of time for payment of auto license fees this year Mike Holm, registrar of motor vehicles, warned today as time for payment without penalty neared at end.

He issued the statement because of the prevalence of rumors that a delay would be granted. As the legislature is not in session there is no possibility of a delay, he said.

The penalty starts Feb. 16. It is 25 cents a day for the first 20 days of delay, and $1 a month up to five months thereafter.

LOWDEN FILES IN THE ILLINOIS PRIMARY TODAY

TO APPEAR ON BALLOT IN RE-PUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY OF STATE

IT IS FIRST STATE IN WHICH
FORMER ILLINOIS GOVER-NOR HAS FILED

By C. C. NICOLET
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Frank O. Lowden has filed his petition for a place on the ballot in the republican presidential primary in Illinois, the United Press learned today.

It is the first state in which Lowden has filed.

The petition is in the office of Secretary of State Louis Emmerson with scores of petitions for state offices which cannot be made public until a court injunction is lifted, the United Press was informed.

Filing of the petition marks the opening of the second stage of the Lowden campaign.

Heretofore, although it has been known definitely that Lowden considered himself a candidate, the activity in his behalf has been largely person-to-person work, laying the foundations for the campaign. From now on, the campaign becomes an active effort to obtain votes, although Lowden himself, according to Clarence F. Buck, his campaign manager, will not campaign actively in the primaries.

The Illinois filing was held up by question as to the legality of the state primary law. The state supreme court recently upheld it, but an injunction restraining the secretary of state from acting upon petitions still is in effect. It probably will be lifted within a day or two.

Lowden probably will file soon in several other states, although it has not been decided definitely which state campaigns he will enter, Buck said.

The court said, the power involved in the present case, and that the reorganization act is unconstitutional insofar as it purports to transfer these powers to an officer appointed by the governor.

“Every person in the state,” Judge Hanft said, “has the right to have the state auditor perform his constitutional functions just as he has the right to have the governor and the courts perform theirs. To hold otherwise is to deprive the people, as well as him, of a constitutional right.”

The case at issue was brought as a test case following refusal of the commission of administration and finance last year to approve a university budget of $40,000 for premiums under a group insurance plan for university professors and employees, designed to hold members of the faculty against officers of higher salary from other institutions.

It was also intended as a partial pension or old age retirement system.

The case was brought into court by the board of regents submitting a voucher for $50 to the state auditor to defray the expense of a preliminary survey and plan for the insurance system.

It was referred to at the time as initiating “a friendly suit” to test the specific powers and authority of the Big Three.

PERRY PARKER TELLS THE JURY OF DAUGHTERS' DEATH

FINAL EVIDENCE IN STATE'S BATTLE TO SEND HICKMAN
TO GALLOWES

STATE EXPECTED TO REST ITS CASE IMMEDIATELY AFTER
PARKER'S TESTIMONY

By DAN CAMPBELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Los Angeles, Feb. 8.—The trial of Edward Hickman neared its close today as Perry Parker prepared to tell the jury the story of the murder of his daughter, Marion, as the final evidence in the state's battle to send Hickman to the gallows.

The state was expected to rest its case immediately after Parker's testimony.

Today was to be the final test of Hickman's composure—that composure which failed to give way while other witnesses were on the stand.

There was much speculation today as to whether he can maintain his stolid attitude in the face of the man whose daughter he murdered.

The central point in Parker's testimony was to come when he describes his meeting with Hickman when the latter threw the dismembered body of Marion at the feet of the father and drove away with $1,500 ransom money.

Parker has avowed that he and his wife want Hickman to hang.

Court Room, Los Angeles, Feb. 8.—William Edward Hickman moved a step nearer the gallows or the insane asylum today as the state rested.

The prosecution brought its case against the slayer of Marion Parker to a sensational climax with the testimony of Perry M. Parker, father of the victim.

Richard Cantillon, defense attorney, told the United Press that the defense would offer no rebuttal and it was expected that the case would reach the jury by tomorrow night.

Judge J. J. Trabucco ordered court adjourned until 2 P. M. today. At that time final arguments will start, with each side allotted three hours to make its plea on the fate of “The Fox.”

Judge Trabucco requested that the final arguments start immediately after the state rested its case, but Jerome Walsh and Richard Cantillon, attorneys for Hickman, objected and the recess until afternoon was ordered.

The prosecution will have the opening and closing arguments and will demand that Hickman be sent to the gallows for his crime.

The main point in the state's argument will be the claim that the defense has failed to show by its evidence that Hickman is insane, the only avenue by which he can escape the death penalty for his act.

The argument of the defense will be that it has shown by testimony of alienists and others that Hickman is insane.

Judge Trabucco indicated he would have his charge to the jury ready to deliver immediately after the end of the final arguments.

This would place the fate of “the Fox” in the hands of the jury late tomorrow.

Los Angeles, Feb. 8.—Roland P. Bishop, Jr., scion of a wealthy Beverly Hills family, was sued for $100,000 on a slander charge.

Mrs. Nell M. Browne, formerly of Pittsburgh, alleged Bishop made false statements about her after she refused to marry him.

Moorhead, Minn., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Rain fell here today as the mild spell of the past few days continued. It started to fall shortly before noon, continuing for several hours.

JUGOSLAVIAN CABINET RESIGNS AT BELGRADE

Belgrade, Feb. 8.—(UP)—The cabinet resigned today.

Five members of the cabinet resigned last week following party political disagreements.

The king accepted the cabinet's resignation, and parliament was adjourned.

It is understood that the king has invited former Minister of Education Vukitchich to form a cabinet.

The resignation of the Yugoslavian cabinet coincides with revelation of a forthcoming $250,000,000 British-American loan to Yugoslavia that might be expected to alter Yugoslavian foreign policy greatly. Since the war French influence has been dominant.

MINNESOTA'S POLITICAL SITUATION

ALTERED TODAY AND FURTHER
CHANGES ARE EXPECTED TO FOLLOW

CANDIDATES FOR REPUBLICAN
NOMINATION FOR U. S. SEN-
ATOR NUMBER 3

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Minnesota's political situation today was altered and further changes are expected to follow.

The number of candidates for the republican nomination for United States senator was increased to three with the entrance of Senator A. J. Rockne of Zumbrota into the race.

Senator Rockne filed with the secretary of state Tuesday and issued a statement in which he declared that “my record on all public questions is well known and my candidacy for the United States senate is founded on that record.”

The senator is one of the two oldest members of the state legislature in length of service.

Others who have already filed for the nomination are Arthur E. Nelson, former mayor of St. Paul, and J. A. A. Burnquist, former governor of Minnesota.

Senator Rockne filed his candidacy shortly after Samuel B. Wilson, chief justice of the state supreme court, announced his preference for his present judicial position. He announced he would not be a candidate for the republican nomination for senator.

Several other state officials have been prominently mentioned as probable candidates and additional filings are expected.

Senator Rockne's statement concerning his filing said:

“I am a republican and have always affiliated with that party. Minnesota is a republican state and is entitled to a solid republican representation in congress so that its influence may be fully exercised in the councils of the nation.”

“For 25 years I have served the people of the state of Minnesota in the state legislature, having been a member of the house for eight years and serving as speaker in the session of 1909. Since then, I have been a member of the state senate, serving continuously for 18 years. In the senate I have been chairman of the finance committee for 14 years. This has given me a very intimate knowledge of the development and needs of the state.”

ESTRANGED WIFE OF KRESGE IS GRANTED DIVORCE

New York, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Mrs. Doris M. Kresge, estranged wife of Sebastian S. Kresge, was granted a divorce today after fifteen minutes deliberation by the supreme court. Kresge did not contest the action.

WAR MINISTER AMARO PERSON-
ALLY DIRECTING TROOPS
IN ONE AREA

GOVERNMENT'S EFFORTS MADE
TO ELIMINATE EACH BAND
OF REBELS

Mexico City, Feb. 8.—(UP)—The government today apparently was concentrating all its available troops in the states of Jalisco and Guanajuato where disturbing reports were made of rebel activities, including firing and bombing of trains.

War Minister Joaquin Amaro personally is directing the forces in the region of Los Altos, state of Guanajuato, where many rebels were reported to have fled from the state of Jalisco.

The government's efforts seem to be directed toward eliminating each band of rebels and ending all train holdups.

Dispatches from Guadalajara told of many rebel activities, including one battle in the region of Pihuamo where fourteen rebels were killed and five captured and executed.

Another dispatch from Guadalajara told of a train from Manzanillo being fired upon and bombed by rebels who were perched in the hills overlooking the tracks. Five passengers were wounded.

The rebels continued their attack on the train until dispersed by federal bombing planes. The bombers were sent from Colima and were being used extensively in the government attempt to end the small uprisings.

The government headquarters here said that the most of the rebel fighting was of the guerrilla warfare type and this prevented a quick and complete defeat of the revolutionaries.

Meanwhile reports of the arrest of Catholic leaders continued to be brought to the capital although exact information is lacking.

A report from Guanajuato said that two priests—Father Jose Amaya Gonzales and Father Samuel Ginori—had been arrested for performing a marriage.

Reports to the newspaper Universal said that rebels had cut communications between Mariscala and Escobedo and between Lagriega and Lanoria. These reports were from Queretaro.

The newspaper reports said the town of Colon had been entered and sacked and five haciendas had also been attacked. Federal troops, the dispatches said, were entering from two directions and were expected to cut off escape for the rebels.

The town of San Miguel in the state of Guanajuato was temporarily incommunicado after rebels cut telegraph wires.

Hollywood, Feb. 8.—A police guard was placed around the home of Armour Phillips, husband of Clara Phillips, “hammer murderess,” now serving a life sentence in San Quentin, after he received three death threats over the telephone. It was alleged that Phillips' attention to Alberta Meadows caused Mrs. Phillips to beat Miss Meadows to death.

CHARRED BODY OF MAN FOUND ON HIGHWAY

Cross Plains, Texas, Feb. 8.—(UP)—The charred body of a man believed to be Henry W. Tays of Selmer, Tenn., was found on a highway near here today. Tays had spent the night near a small camp fire, it was believed.

INTERVENERS WHO FAVOR MERGER ARE TO BE HEARD

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Interveners from Oregon and Northwestern Washington cities who favor the proposed merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads will present their arguments to the Interstate Commerce Commission today.

It was probable that the present session by the commission would close today. Among those expected to testify today were D. B. Dodson, manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, and H. H. Corey, a public service commissioner of Oregon, both of whom favor the merger.

LABOR'S LONG STANDING FIGHT ON INJUNCTIONS

BROUGHT BEFORE SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE
TODAY

FIRST HEARING ON SHIPSTEAD
BILL SEEKING TO CURB
EQUITY COURTS

Washington, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Labor's long standing fight against strike injunctions was brought before the senate judiciary committee today at its first hearing on the Shipstead bill.

The measure seeks to curb equity courts in issuing injunctions against peaceful picketing and boycott.

Representatives of virtually every large labor organization in the country have gathered to support the bill while the opposition has assembled an equally formidable group representing large employers.

Senator Shipstead, Minnesota farmer-laborite, author of the bill, opened the hearings with a statement tracing the history of labor injunctions and setting forth a legal argument for the measure.

Peaceful picketing has been declared lawful by the United States supreme court and several state supreme courts, he said, and yet anti-picketing injunctions are still issued in many equity courts.

The right to strike for higher wages and better working conditions has been similarly recognized in some states, he testified, while others hold the so-called primary boycott illegal.

“The failure of congress to define and limit equity jurisdiction in disputes between labor and capital has compelled the courts to exercise legislative authority,” he said. “The danger involved in this pernicious system is obvious.”

FACES CHARGES OF STEALING CAR

Red Wing, Minn., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Edgar Bunker, 23, in a hospital here with a broken shoulder, will face charges of stealing an automobile when he recovers, police here reported late yesterday.

Bunker was injured when he drove an automobile, alleged to have been stolen, off the road. The machine was wrecked.

A police guard is maintained over the man.

Traffic on Highways and Cities Hampered By Rain and Sleet

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Traffic on the highways and in the cities of Minnesota early today was severely hampered by heavy rain and sleet in most sections.

Many bus lines of the state were not operating during the night because of icy roads, made more perilous by the rain.

In the Twin Cities a number of minor automobile and street car crashes were reported. Sidewalks were converted into sheets of ice causing difficulties in walking, scores of persons falling, but no serious injuries were reported.

EXPECTING TO LAND AT HAVANA THIS AFTERNOON

THE GOOD WILL OF A
NATION

HAITI GAVE HIM ITS HIGHEST
HONOR, CAPTIVATED BY HIS PERSONALITY

Columbia Flying Field, Havana, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 3:50 P. M. today, completing his triumphal flight through Latin America to the Pan-American conference.

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took off on the final leg of his good will flight to Central and South America today at 6:35 A. M. expecting to land at Havana, Cuba, this afternoon.

The American left behind him the good will of a nation that for two days had marveled at his resilience; a nation that had given him its highest honor and a nation that had completely succumbed to his engaging personality.

Lindbergh planned a circuitous route to Havana, one that will be about 720 miles, and one that will take him all along the coast of Cuba before he finally lands on the flying field at the capital.

He said before the take-off, that he expected to arrive in Cuba at about 4 P. M.

Lindbergh's projected course was 105 miles north and then west along the Haitian west coast to the north-west tip of the island; then 60 miles across the water from the mole of St. Nicholas to Point Caletas, Cuba. From Point Caletas, the lone eagle's course was west 55 miles to the United States naval base at Guantanamo and then northwest 500 miles in an airline to Havana and the final and crowning honor of his long tour that began December 13.

Lindbergh took off despite a leaky valve on his plane.

He laughed when he saw it, and said it was of no importance.

Lindbergh said he would fix the valve when he reached Havana.

Lindbergh's take-off from Boca Chica field outside of Port Au Prince was perfect. Good weather favored him.

A seven-mile wind was blowing. The sky was cloudless.

Lindbergh's silvery Spirit of St. Louis rose and circled over the field waiting for the six United States marine planes that were to escort him. As they rose and fell into formation in his wake, Lindbergh stirred a wide circle of the city. He returned to the field, swooped low, waved from a side window of his enclosed cabin, and headed north for the mole of St. Nicholas.

Havana, Feb. 8.—An hour ahead of schedule and flying true as a bullet, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was speeding over Cuba this afternoon on his way to the final triumph of his good will tour to the Pan-American conference and a tribute by the twenty-one American republics represented there to his writing of aviation history.

A Cuban Telephone Company message reported Lindbergh over Camaguey, only 370 miles—less than four hours from Havana—at 11:15 A. M.

Lindbergh passed over Cienfuegos, Havana, Feb. 8.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, in his “Spirit of St. Louis,” was sighted over Havana at 3:39 P. M.

He circled the city preparatory to landing at Columbia flying field, five miles distant, where the official reception committee awaited him.

At 3:42 P. M. he was circling Morro Castle.

He circled back toward the city at 3:45 P. M., apparently to give the crowd an opportunity to clear the field.

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—(UP)—"No such power was ever conceded by the people to czar or iron chancellor," was an expression used by Judge Frank O. "Insofar as Chapter 426, laws of 1925, attempts to endow the commission of administration and finance with power to supervise and control a constitutional officer, department or agency, invested with certain powers and discretion, and acting within the scope of the powers granted and discretion conferred," said Judge Hanft, "the act is void."

The decision held:

That the reorganization act of 1925 is void insofar as it attempts to endow the "Big Three" with power to supervise and control any constitutional officer, department or agency.

That the board of regents is a public corporation, "the highest form of juristic persons known to the law," a constitutional body of independent authorities, co-ordinating with and equal to that of the legislature.

That even repeated so-called "practical construction" cannot be allowed to sanction a clear infringement of the constitution, as it relates to the corporate powers of the university and the board of regents.

"I am a republican and have always affiliated with that party. Minnesota is a republican state and is entitled to a solid republican representation in congress so that its influence may be fully exercised in the councils of the nation."

"For 25 years I have served the people of the state of Minnesota in the state legislature, having been a member of the house for eight years and serving as speaker in the session of 1909. Since then, I have been a member of the state senate, serving continuously for 18 years. In the senate I have been chairman of the finance committee for 14 years. This has given me a very intimate knowledge of the development and needs of the state."

ESTRANGED WIFE OF KRESGE IS GRANTED DIVORCE

New York, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Mrs. Doris M. Kresge, estranged wife of Sebastian S. Kresge, was granted a divorce today after fifteen minutes deliberation by the supreme court. Kresge did not contest the action.

DISTURBANCES IN JALISCO AND GUANAJUATO

WAR MINISTER AMARO PERSON-
ALLY DIRECTING TROOPS
IN ONE AREA

GOVERNMENT'S EFFORTS MADE
TO ELIMINATE EACH BAND
OF REBELS

Mexico City, Feb. 8.—(UP)—The government today apparently was concentrating all its available troops in the states of Jalisco and Guanajuato where disturbing reports were made of rebel activities, including firing and bombing of trains.

War Minister Joaquin Amaro personally is directing the forces in the region of Los Altos, state of Guanajuato, where many rebels were reported to have fled from the state of Jalisco.

The government's efforts seem to be directed toward eliminating each band of rebels and ending all train holdups.

Dispatches from Guadalajara told of many rebel activities, including one battle in the region of Piluano where fourteen rebels were killed and five captured and executed.

Another dispatch from Guadalajara told of a train from Manzanillo being fired upon and bombed by rebels who were perched in the hills overlooking the tracks. Five passengers were wounded.

The rebels continued their attack on the train until dispersed by federal bombing planes. The bombers were sent from Colima and were being used extensively in the government attempt to end the small uprisings.

The government headquarters here said that the most of the rebel fighting was of the guerrilla warfare type and this prevented a quick and complete defeat of the revolutionaries.

Meanwhile reports of the arrest of Catholic leaders continued to be brought to the capital although exact information is lacking.

A report from Guanajuato said that two priests—Father Jose Amaya Gonzales and Father Samuel Glinori—had been arrested for performing a marriage.

Reports to the newspaper Universal said that rebels had cut communications between Mariscal and Escobedo and between Lagrera and Lanoria. These reports were from Queretaro.

The newspaper reports said the town of Colon had been entered and sacked and five haciendas had also been attacked. Federal troops, the dispatches said, were entering from two directions and were expected to cut off escape for the rebels.

The town of San Miguel in the state of Guanajuato was temporarily incommunicado after rebels cut telegraph wires.

Hollywood, Feb. 8.—A police guard was placed around the home of Armour Phillips, husband of Clara Phillips, "hammer murderer," now serving a life sentence in San Quentin, after he received three death threats over the telephone.

It was alleged that Phillips' attention to Alberta Meadows caused Mrs. Phillips to beat Miss Meadows to death.

CHARRED BODY OF MAN FOUND ON HIGHWAY

Cross Plains, Texas, Feb. 8.—(UP)—The charred body of a man believed to be Henry W. Tays of Selmer, Tenn., was found on a highway near here today. Tays had spent the night near a small camp fire, it was believed.

INTERVENERS WHO FAVOR MERGER ARE TO BE HEARD

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Interveners from Oregon and Northwestern Washington cities who favor the proposed merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads will present their arguments to the Interstate Commerce Commission today.

It was probable that the present session by the commission would close today. Among those expected to testify today were D. B. Dodson, manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, and H. H. Corey, a public service commissioner of Oregon, both of whom favor the merger.

LABOR'S LONG STANDING FIGHT ON INJUNCTIONS

BROUGHT BEFORE SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE
TODAY

FIRST HEARING ON SHIPSTEAD
BILL SEEKING TO CURB
EQUITY COURTS

Washington, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Labor's long standing fight against strike injunctions was brought before the senate judiciary committee today at its first hearing on the Shipstead bill.

The measure seeks to curb equity courts in issuing injunctions against peaceful picketing and boycott.

Representatives of virtually every large labor organization in the country have gathered to support the bill while the opposition has assembled an equally formidable group representing large employers.

Senator Shipstead, Minnesota farmer-laborite, author of the bill, opened the hearings with a statement tracing the history of labor injunctions and setting forth a legal argument for the measure.

Peaceful picketing has been declared lawful by the United States supreme court and several state supreme courts, he said, and yet anti-picketing injunctions are still issued in many equity courts.

The right to strike for higher wages and better working conditions has been similarly recognized in some states, he testified, while others hold the so-called primary boycott illegal.

"The failure of congress to define and limit equity jurisdiction disputes between labor and capital has compelled the courts to exercise legislative authority," he said. "The danger involved in this pernicious system is obvious."

FACES CHARGES OF STEALING CAR

Red Wing, Minn., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Edgar Bunker, 23, in a hospital here with a broken shoulder, will face charges of stealing an automobile when he recovers, police here reported late yesterday.

Bunker was injured when he drove an automobile, alleged to have been stolen, off the road. The machine was wrecked.

A police guard is maintained over the man.

Traffic on Highways and Cities Hampered By Rain and Sleet

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Traffic on the highways and in the cities of Minnesota early today was severely hampered by heavy rain and sleet in most sections.

Many bus lines of the state were not operating during the night because of icy roads, made more perilous by the rain.

In the Twin Cities a number of minor automobile and street car crashes were reported. Sidewalks were converted into sheets of ice causing difficulties in walking, scores of persons falling, but no serious injuries were reported.

NATION

HAITI GAVE HIM ITS HIGHEST
HONOR, CAPTIVATED BY
HIS PERSONALITY

Columbia Flying Field, Havana, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 3:56 P. M. today, completing his triumphal flight through Latin America to the Pan-American conference.

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took off on the final leg of his good will flight to Central and South America today at 6:35 A. M. expecting to land at Havana, Cuba, this afternoon.

The American left behind him the good will of a nation that for two days had marveled at his reticence; a nation that had given him its highest honor and a nation that had completely succumbed to his engaging personality.

Lindbergh planned a circuitous route to Havana, one that will be about 720 miles, and one that will take him all along the coast of Cuba before he finally lands at the flying field at the capital.

He said before the take-off, that he expected to arrive in Cuba at about 4 P. M.

Lindbergh's projected course was 105 miles north and then west along the Haitian coast to the northwest tip of the island; then 60 miles across the water from the mole of St. Nicholas to Point Calétes, Cuba. From Point Calétes, the lone eagle's course was west 55 miles to the United States naval base at Guantanamo and then northwest 500 miles in an airline to Havana and the final and crowning honor of his long tour that began December 13.

Lindbergh took off despite a leaky valve on his plane.

He laughed when he saw it, and said it was of no importance.

Lindbergh said he would fix the valve when he reached Havana.

Lindbergh's take-off from Bowman Field outside of Port Au Prince was perfect. Good weather favored him. A seven-mile wind was blowing. The sky was cloudless.

Lindbergh's silvery Spirit of St. Louis rose and circled over the field waiting for the six United States marine planes that were to escort him. As they rose and fell into formation in his wake, Lindbergh stirred a wide circle of the city. He returned to the field, swooped low, waved from a side window of his enclosed cabin, and headed north for the mole of St. Nicholas.

Havana, Feb. 8.—An hour ahead of schedule and flying true as a bullet, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was speeding over Cuba this afternoon on his way to the final triumph of his good will tour to the Pan-American conference and a tribute by the twenty-one American republics represented there to his writing of aviation history.

A Cuban Telephone Company message reported Lindbergh over Camaguey, only 370 miles—less than four hours from Havana—at 11:15 A. M.

Lindbergh passed over Cienfuegos, Havana, Feb. 8.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was sighted over Havana at 3:39 P. M.

He circled the city preparatory to landing at Columbia flying field, five miles distant, where the official reception committee awaited him.

At 3:42 P. M. he was circling Morro Castle. He circled back toward the city at 3:45 P. M., apparently to give the crowd an opportunity to clear the field.

"Get the message through"

IN THE Sixties the "pony express" carried the mail over mountain and Indian wilderness from St. Joseph, Missouri, to San Francisco. The express riders and station keepers won undying fame for getting the message through, regardless of hardship or danger.

In fact and in spirit, the Bell System is the lineal descendant of the pony express. Operators volunteer to remain at their switchboards in the face of fire, flood or other great danger. Linemen go out to repair the lines in time of accident or storm—even at the risk of their lives.

There are no instructions requiring Bell System employees to endanger their lives. It is the spirit of communication that bids them, "Get the message through."

"Get the message through"

IN THE Sixties the "pony express" carried the mail over mountain and Indian wilderness from St. Joseph, Missouri, to San Francisco. The express riders and station keepers won undying fame for getting the message through, regardless of hardship or danger.

In fact and in spirit, the Bell System is the lineal descendant of the pony express. Operators volunteer to remain at their switchboards in the face of fire, flood or other great danger. Linemen go out to repair the lines in time of accident or storm—even at the risk of their lives.

There are no instructions requiring Bell System employees to endanger their lives. It is the spirit of communication that bids them, "Get the message through."

Supreme Court Affirms Orders of Judge Graham Torrence

SYLLABUS STATED

Concerns O'Brien Mercantile Co. vs Bay Lake Fruit Growers Association

Orders entered in cases consolidated and known in supreme court as O'Brien Mercantile Co. plaintiff-appellant and Gowan-Lanning Brown Co., plaintiff-appellant vs Bay Lake Fruit Growers Association, respondent-appellant, as made by Judge Graham Torrence, of the district court, have been affirmed in an opinion written by Chief Justice Olson of the supreme court and the llabus states, in brief, that:

A general creditor who has not duced his claim to judgment and ocured the return of an execution sntisfied as required by statute, ay, in equity, procure the appoint- ment of a receiver of an insolvent rporation to enforce the constitu- ional liability of stockholders.

A general creditor by virtue of the ower of equity or by virtue of ute cited, has a standing before e court equal to that of a judg- ent creditor who has exhausted his al remedies as contemplated by ute cited, except as to the bur- n of proof.

The selection of a receiver lies ith the court appointing him. In the opinion of Chief Justice lson it is stated that there are o actions. Each sought the ap- intment of a receiver of the Bay ke Fruit Growers Association. e action first commenced was ro- cuted by the O'Brien Mercantile o. a general creditor, whose claim d not been reduced to judgment. e other was prosecuted by Gowan- nning-Brown Co., who having quired an assignment of a small gment pressed its suit as a judg- ent creditor.

The ultimate purpose in both ac- ns was to enforce the stockhold- s double liability. The corpora- n had been adjudged a bankrupt. e first action sought the appoint- nt of Donald I. Ryan as receiver d the second the trustee in bank- rptcy. Appropriate applications ere made in each action and were ard and submitted to the court as the two applications were consoli- ated.

The court filed separate orders. e first action he appointed Ryan eceiver. In the second action e denied the application for the ointment of the trustee. The wan-Lanning-Brown Co. appealed m both orders. By consent of e parties the appeals were consoli- ated in the supreme court and the ections discussed as if covered by e order.

Dolores Costello in "OLD SAN FRANCISCO" is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Don Hernandez Vasquez and his beautiful granddaughter Dolores occupy the old Vasquez ranch overlooking San Francisco. The prosperity that came to San Francisco by the discovery of gold in California missed the Vasquez ranch where indolent ways did not keep abreast of modern progress. The ranch is coveted by Buckwell, San Francisco's political boss. His lawyer, Brandon, with Brandon's nephew, Terry, try to buy the ranch. Vasquez won't sell. Terry falls in love with Dolores. Buckwell, incensed by refusal, plans to void the old Vasquez land grant and evict Vasquez. Terry is furious and goes to scum Vasquez.

They both burst into merry laughter and Terry lost no time in presenting the remaining flower with due formality.
"Thank you," smiled Dolores shyly, pinning it in her hair with true Spanish artistry.
"I would like to bring you an arm full of American Beauties, their color is like your cheeks." Terry's admiration was making him surprisingly complimentary.
"It is strange that you came out here. I was wishing you would," confessed Dolores with winning frankness.

"You were? That's great, but why? Is anything wrong?" Terry suddenly remembered what had brought him to the ranch and his light hearted banter gave way to anxiousness.

"Grandfather is ill with worry about the ranch being taken away from him. We don't know what to do." Her great eyes were opened wide in perplexity.

"My rancho is not for sale, no matter who wants to buy."

Dolores did not have any hesitancy about confiding private troubles to Terry; by some miracle it seemed to make her feel better.

"That's a funny thing," exclaimed Terry. "I came out to try to help you because I was afraid your grandfather did not understand how grave the land grant situation is."

"Yes, I think he does, but he is unwilling to take advice from outsiders."

"I'm not an outsider," quickly objected Terry and Dolores just as quickly agreed. Neither of them realized how much they were taking for granted in so short a time, nor how strange their sympathetic loyalty would have sounded had anyone been there to hear.

"I am afraid Grandfather would not listen to a relative of Mr. Brandon's."

Startled at her own affront, Dolores clutched her throat in a futile effort to suppress the thing she had just said.

"Never mind," consoled Terry dolefully. Then he regarded Dolores silently for what seemed to be a long time before adding: "At least I will try and talk with him anyhow, and in case I fail I hope you will let me know if you need me." Taking out a card he offered it to her.

"Thank you, Terry," she said gratefully; "I will," and she clutched the card without looking at it.

"That's a promise," Terry smiled and held out his hand.

Where Dolores' delicate fingers touched his palm he forgot about all promises but one, and that was the sacred vows that he hoped to make some day with her.

They were rudely recalled from their enjoyment of each other when Vasquez stalked out into the patio, coldly furious at seeing them together. Dolores pulled her hand from Terry's warm clasp and drew back anxiously, afraid of the impending outburst.

"Good afternoon, sir," greeted Terry, meeting the old man's eyes coolly.

"The same to you, Senor, and may I, as head of the house, inquire your business here?"

"To warn and help you, sir," Terry's eyes did not waver.

"Why should you infer that I go-quire your help?" inquired Vasquez in stiff indignation.

"Please, Grandfather," quickly interposed Dolores, "allow him to speak!"

The old man looked from Terry to the beloved granddaughter, whose hand rested on his shoulder in alarm. He had never been able to refuse anything that this only child of his only son asked of him.

"Very well," he acquiesced, bowing stiffly. "Come into the living room, Senor, and be comfortable."

Dolores stood alone, watching them disappear within the familiar shadows of the rancho. Terry's card was still clutched convulsively in her hand. As if fearful of being left alone, she hurried after the men, but stopped to gather a bouquet from a large clump of flowers. She was near enough to watch without eavesdropping. The additional explanation for Dolores' interest lay in the fact that she did not want Terry to depart without her knowing it.

True to habit and custom Vasquez insisted upon a round of wine before discussing the subject that was uppermost in their minds.

Unable to delay any longer, Terry leaned forward, saying: "Senor Vasquez, know that unless you sell this rancho you will lose it just the same. Those fighting you are cruel and ruthless."

"Why do you think you know this?" Vasquez inquired stiffly.

"I heard it from the man's own lips—the man who intends seizing your property to increase his own power and wealth. He is paying whatever figure was offered you to have your original land grants declared invalid. And he can do it," finished Terry with conviction.

"I am willing to concede that you are acting in good faith, senor," said Vasquez sternly, "but I do not believe they could do such a thing. Why, my ancestors founded San Francisco and the Vasquez family has dwelt here in peace and happiness since 1776."

Terry sank back helplessly. The fire in Vasquez's eyes showed that he was inwardly raging at the bare thought of such an action.

"When they fight, you will be powerless, sir," Terry was doing his best.

"No! No!" Vasquez's voice rang out in protest and crossing to the mantle he took the famous old weapon from its case in the wall. "This sword," he explained proudly, showing it to Terry, "has protected this land and the Vasquez line since Spain's conquest in California—and it will not fail me now."

"Unfortunately," pursued Terry, "the politicians of San Francisco have no respect for tradition and a man's feelings. They are merciless when it comes to securing what they want and perhaps the greatest leader of them all is determined to add your rancho to his holdings because he knows that its value will increase as the city extends this way."

"My rancho is not for sale, no matter who wants to buy. I once killed a man, senor, because he stole a Vasquez horse and killed my brother—I will not hesitate to inflict a similar punishment on any man who dares trespass on my property rights." While Vasquez spoke he was relapsing with his youthful fire and courage—his spirit was magnificent! "Let us go out into the sunshine, senor; it will be more pleasant."

As they approached the doorway, Don Luis galloped up on his horse and waved gaily to Dolores. Terry's heart skipped a beat when she raised her bouquet in answer to the salute. And his thoughts were in a tumult when he saw the man dismount and greet Dolores by pressing her finger tips to his lips. He could not hear Don Luis say, "Behold what I have brought you, my loved one!" but he saw a long jewel box presented to Dolores and could tell that the greeting was more intimate than he wanted any man but himself to enjoy.

"Ah, thank the Good Mother that I have lived to see this joyful day," sighed Vasquez, smiling happily as he watched the little scene.

Terry looked at him quickly, his brows puckered in a boyish frown of interrogation.

"The last of a family as proud and as glorious as my own," continued Vasquez, waving his hand toward Don Luis; "the only one to whom I would trust the happiness of my child."

Terry groaned inwardly. He had dared dream such glorious plans for Dolores and himself, and all the time she was promised to the picturesque Spaniard!

"I thought—she—had never been away from the rancho," Terry could not understand it.

"That is true except as regards calling on friends. They were children together—their traditions were the same as ours. For the daughter of a Vasquez to marry other than a man of her own blood would be to court the bitterness of woe."

Auditor Chase, on advice of the attorney general's office, refused to approve the voucher, whereupon the regents petitioned the Ramsey county district court for a writ of mandamus to compel him to approve it for payment. This petition is now granted by Judge Hanft, who gave a stay of 20 days to permit making appeal to the state supreme court.
Judge Hanft's decision holds the 1925 reorganization act null and void so far as concerns its attempts to give the Big Three authority and power over the finances, policies or administrative acts of any other constitutionally created official, department or agency of the state government.

SAYS MERGER

WOULD CREATE A MONOPOLY

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Merger of the Northern roads would create a transportation monopoly dangerous to the northwest, Mayor L. C.

Hodgson declared in an address at a club meeting here.

"If the merger is permitted," he said, "a transportation monopoly will exist from the Great Lakes to Puget Sound."

Merging of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific would automatically give the holding company control of the Burlington railroad. Such a combination would be so powerful you couldn't consolidate any other three western lines and have them compete successfully.

RIGHTS OF GENERAL CREDITOR UPHELD

Time Court Affirms Orders of Judge Graham Torrence

SYLLABUS STATED

Concerns O'Brien Mercantile Co. vs Bay Lake Fruit Growers Association

Orders entered in cases consolidated and known in supreme court as O'Brien Mercantile Co. plaintiff-appellant and Gowan-Lanning-Brown Co., plaintiff-appellant vs Bay Lake Fruit Growers Association, respondent-appellant, as made by Judge Graham Torrence, of the district court, have been affirmed in an opinion written by Chief Justice Wilson of the supreme court and the syllabus states, in brief, that:

A general creditor who has not duced his claim to judgment and secured the return of an execution satisfied as required by statute, say, in equity, procure the appointment of a receiver of an insolvent corporation to enforce the constitutional liability of stockholders.

A general creditor by virtue of the power of equity or by virtue of statute cited, has a standing before the court equal to that of a judgment creditor who has exhausted his legal remedies as contemplated by statute cited, except as to the burden of proof.

The selection of a receiver lies with the court appointing him. In the opinion of Chief Justice Wilson it is stated that there are no actions. Each sought the appointment of a receiver of the Bay Lake Fruit Growers Association. The action first commenced was prosecuted by the O'Brien Mercantile Co., a general creditor, whose claim had not been reduced to judgment. The other was prosecuted by Gowan-Lanning-Brown Co., who having acquired an assignment of a small judgment pressed its suit as a judgment creditor.

The ultimate purpose in both actions was to enforce the stockholders' double liability. The corporation had been adjudged a bankrupt. The first action sought the appointment of Donald I. Ryan as receiver and the second the trustee in bankruptcy. Appropriate applications are made in each action and were heard and submitted to the court as the two applications were consolidated.

The court filed separate orders. The first action he appointed Ryan receiver. In the second action he denied the application for the appointment of the trustee. The Gowan-Lanning-Brown Co. appealed on both orders. By consent of all parties the appeals were consolidated in the supreme court and the questions discussed as if covered by one order.

Copyright, 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc. Dolores Costello in "OLD SAN FRANCISCO" is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
Don Hernandez Vasquez and his beautiful granddaughter Dolores occupy the old Vasquez ranch overlooking San Francisco. The prosperity that came to San Francisco by the discovery of gold in California missed the Vasquez ranch where indolent ways did not keep abreast of modern progress. The ranch is coveted by Buckwell, San Francisco's political boss. His lawyer, Brandon, with Brandon's nephew, Terry, try to buy the ranch. Vasquez won't sell. Terry falls in love with Dolores. Buckwell, incensed by refusal, plans to void the old Vasquez land grant and evict Vasquez. Terry is furious and goes to warn Vasquez.

They both burst into merry laughter and Terry lost no time in presenting the remaining flower with due formality.
"Thank you," smiled Dolores shyly, pinning it in her hair with true Spanish artistry.
"I would like to bring you an arm full of American Beauties, their color is like your cheeks," Terry's admiration was making him surprisingly complimentary.
"It is strange that you came out here. I was wishing you would," confessed Dolores with winning frankness.
"You were? That's great, but why? Is anything wrong?" Terry suddenly remembered what had brought him to the ranch and his light hearted banter gave way to anxiousness.
"Grandfather is ill with worry about the ranch being taken away from him."

"My rancho is not for sale, no matter who wants to buy," from him. We don't know what to do." Her great eyes were opened wide in perplexity.
Dolores did not have any hesitancy about confiding private troubles to Terry; by some miracle it seemed to make her feel better.
"That's a funny thing," exclaimed Terry. "I came out to try to help you because I was afraid your grandfather did not understand how grave the land grant situation is."
"Yes, I think he does, but he is unwilling to take advice from outsiders."
"I'm not an outsider," quickly objected Terry and Dolores just as quickly agreed. Neither of them realized how much they were taking for granted in so short a time, nor how strange their sympathetic loyalty would have sounded had anyone been there to hear.
"I am afraid Grandfather would not listen to a relative of Mr. Brandon's."
Startled at her own affront, Dolores clutched her throat in a futile effort to suppress the thing she had just said.
"Never mind," consoled Terry. Dolores silently for what seemed to be a long time before adding, "At least I will try and talk with him anyhow, and in case I fail I hope you will let me know if you need me." Taking out a card he offered it to her.
"Thank you, Terry," she said gratefully. "I will," and she clutched the card without looking at it.
"That's a promise," Terry smiled and held out his hand.
Where Dolores' delicate fingers touched his palm he forgot about all promises but one, and that was the sacred vow that he hoped to make some day with her.
They were rudely recalled from their enjoyment of each other when Vasquez stalked out into the patio, coldly furious at seeing them together. Dolores pulled her hand from Terry's warm clasp and drew back anxiously, afraid of the impending outburst.
"Good afternoon, sir," greeted Terry, meeting the old man's eyes coolly.
"The same to you, Senor, and may I, as head of the house, inquire your business here?"
"To warn and help you, sir," Terry's eyes did not waver.
"Why should you inter that I require your help?" inquired Vasquez in still indignation.

"Please, Grandfather," quickly interposed Dolores, "allow him to speak!"
The old man looked from Terry to the beloved granddaughter, whose hand rested on his shoulder in alarm. He had never been able to refuse anything that this only child of his only son asked of him.
"Very well," he acquiesced, bowing stiffly. "Come into the living room, Senor, and be comfortable."
Dolores stood alone, watching them disappear within the familiar shadows of the rancho. Terry's card was still clutched convulsively in her hand. As if fearful of being left alone, she hurried after the men, but stopped to gather a bouquet from a large clump of flowers. She was near enough to watch without eavesdropping. The additional explanation for Dolores' interest lay in the fact that she did not want Terry to depart without her knowing it.
True to habit and custom Vasquez insisted upon a round of wine before discussing the subject that was uppermost in their minds.
Unable to delay any longer, Terry leaned forward, saying: "Senor Vasquez, know that unless you sell this rancho you will lose it just the same. Those fighting you are cruel and ruthless."
"Why do you think you know this?" Vasquez inquired stiffly.
"I heard it from the man's own lips—the man who intends seizing your property to increase his own power and wealth. He is paying whatever figure was offered you to have your original land grants declared invalid. And he can do it," finished Terry with conviction.
"I am willing to concede that you are acting in good faith, senor," said Vasquez sternly, "but I do not believe they could do such a thing. Why, my ancestors founded San Francisco and the Vasquez family has dwelt here in peace and happiness since 1776."
Terry sank back helplessly. The fire in Vasquez's eyes showed that he was inwardly raging at the bare thought of such an action.
"When they fight, you will be powerless, sir," Terry was doing his best.
"No! No!" Vasquez's voice rang out in protest and crossing to the mantle he took the famous old weapon from its case in the wall.
"This sword," he explained proudly, showing it to Terry, "has protected this land and the Vasquez line since Spain's conquest in California and it will not fall me now."

"Unfortunately," pursued Terry, "the politicians of San Francisco have no respect for tradition and a man's feelings. They are merciless when it comes to securing what they want and perhaps the greatest leader of them all is determined to add your rancho to his holdings because he knows that its value will increase as the city extends this way."
"My rancho is not for sale, no matter who wants to buy. I once killed a man, senor, because he stole a Vasquez horse and killed my brother—I will not hesitate to inflict a similar punishment on any man who dares trespass on my property rights." While Vasquez spoke he was reabsorbed with his youthful fire and courage—his spirit it was magnificent! "Let us go out into the sunshine, senor; it will be more pleasant."
As they approached the doorway, Don Luis galloped up on his horse and waved gaily to Dolores. Terry's heart skipped a beat when she raised her bouquet in answer to the salute. And his thoughts were in a tumult when he saw the man dismount and greet Dolores by pressing her finger tips to his lips. He could not hear Don Luis say, "Behold what I have brought you, my loved one!" but he saw a jeweled box presented to Dolores and could tell that the greeting was more intimate than he wanted any man but himself to enjoy.
"Ah, thank the Good Mother that I have lived to see this joyous day!" sighed Vasquez, smiling happily as he watched the little scene.
Terry looked at him quickly, his brows puckered in a boyish frown of interrogation.
"He last of a family as proud and as glorious as my own," continued Vasquez, waving his hand toward Don Luis; "the only one to whom I would trust the happiness of my child."
Terry groaned inwardly. He had dared dream such glorious plans for Dolores and himself, and all the time she was promised to the picturesque Spaniard!
"I thought—she—had never been away from the rancho," Terry could not understand it.
"That is true except as regards calling on friends. They were children together—their traditions are the same as ours. For the daughter of a Vasquez to marry other than a man of her own blood would be to court the bitterness of war."

Auditor Chase, on advice of the attorney general's office, refused to approve the voucher, whereupon the regents petitioned the Ramsey county district court for a writ of mandamus to compel him to approve it for payment. This petition is now granted by Judge Hanft, who gave a stay of 20 days to permit making appeal to the state supreme court.
Judge Hanft's decision holds the 1925 reorganization act null and void so far as concerns its attempts to give the Big Three authority and power over the finances, policies or administrative acts of any other constitutionally created official, department or agency of the state government.

SAYS MERGER WOULD CREATE A MONOPOLY
St. Paul, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Merger of the Northern roads would create a transportation monopoly dangerous to the northwest, Mayor L. C. Hodgson declared in an address at a club meeting here.

Merging of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific would automatically give the holding company control of the Burlington railroad. Such a combination would be so powerful you couldn't consolidate any other three western lines and have them compete successfully.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1928

MAINTENANCE OF ROADS IN WINTER

A YEAR ago the Standard Oil Company men of Duluth held a sales convention in Brainerd and salesmen from the Brainerd, Wadena and Bemidji districts were in attendance. It was not a 100 per cent attendance, for some of the salesmen were so well snowed in that they could not get to town. It was the first winter that the state had made a determined effort to keep the trunk roads open. It meant a lot of work.

Some of the counties were not so well equipped with snow plows and the town had no plow either. Winter motoring was getting a few devotees who ventured forth with a snow shovel while less courageous motorists kept their cars on stilts in garages.

Since then everything had changed. The Standard Oil men came to town yesterday for their annual sales convention and every man was present and every man had motored the entire distance. Winter motoring is now an assured fact and very few people put their cars away for the winter.

Winter maintenance has now become a regular and important feature of trunk highway work, according to C. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner. When the state took over the trunk highways in 1921, Mr. Babcock pointed out, summer maintenance was all that was necessary, for nearly all motorists laid up their cars in winter. A series of open winters, however, permitted many drivers to continue the use of their cars all winter.

The highway department then began to keep its maintenance forces at work on a part-time basis during the winter, both to protect roads where there was heavy travel and a bare surface, and to plow some routes when it snowed. Two years ago a snow removal program covering the entire system was adopted. The winter of 1926-1927 was unusually severe, but the department was able to keep the trunk routes 90 per cent open.

The winter of 1927-1928 started out to beat the preceding winter, and December broke the records for both snow and cold for several decades. The department was able to open a majority of the routes within two or three days after each of the two severe storms in that month and to have nearly all open in less than a week. Snow fence and snow plowing equipment have been added each year and in normal snowfall all routes can be opened in a day or two after a storm.

Many counties have also taken up the problem of keeping the roads open in winter. Sixty-two counties have more or less snow fences in use this winter, and 36 own or operate plows. Many more are considering the question.

Keeping the roads open in winter requires preparation and organization in advance, but in a few years keeping the roads open in winter will probably be as much of a part of regular routine in most counties as summer maintenance.

Estimates of the department show that the snow plowing done by the state and the counties brings 80 per cent of the population of the state within a mile of an open road in the winter. The extra gasoline tax received because roads are open so people can drive in winter, is more than ample to pay the cost of keeping the trunk routes open. The people who do not drive therefore are not taxed for winter maintenance of the state routes.

VACATION PLANS CONSIDERED IN WINTER

ALTHOUGH Minnesota's lakes and rivers are still shackled in ice, and motorists scan the weather predictions before venturing on long journeys, interest in Minnesota's vacation opportunities is by no means suspended.

The Ten Thousand Lakes Association is receiving many inquiries. It is estimated by the association that more than 1,400,000 tourists visited Minnesota last season, and it is expected that this number will be greatly increased this year. Resort owners in many sections of the state are planning greater facilities to accommodate more guests.

"The number of inquiries concerning Minnesota's vacation advantages has been greater this winter than ever before up to this time", H. C. Hotelling, secretary of the Ten Thousand Lakes association said. "These inquiries are being received from every state in the Union, from Canada, Mexico, and many foreign countries. Within the past week they have come from Australia, Hawaii, South America, South Africa, Nigeria, and many points in Europe. There is every indication that this will be Minnesota's greatest tourist season, and that many thousands who never have spent their vacations in this state before will be added to those who will return."

COMBATTING PEDDLER EVIL

THE Carrington Independent suggests "that merchants interested in the peddler evil close all stores one day next week and inaugurate 'Peddler Day' in Carrington. Let every merchant, clerk and attache get some article, a sales talk and a load of unmitigated gall and make the rounds. After the housewives of Carrington have answered the doorbells to their calls and seen the displays they will probably be tired of front door merchants."

Of course, it ironically adds, there will be no guarantees, cash deposits must be made, and the housewife must wait seven weeks for the goods.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT

GOVERNOR CHRISTIANSON'S appointment of G. A. Youngquist as Attorney General of Minnesota is a happy one. Not only has an excellent legal mind been recognized, but the governor has followed sound practice in promoting from the ranks.

The office of Attorney General has a record of high efficiency and intelligence, some of the state's keenest legal talent having occupied it in the past. Mr. Youngquist will maintain its prestige.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

INTERNATIONAL ROTARY meets at Minneapolis June 18 to 22 inclusive and the city expects an attendance of 15,000 Rotarians. Some of the largest foreign delegations will come from Czechoslovakia, Norway, France, England, Spain, Belgium, Italy, Mexico, Holland, Sweden, Cuba, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, New Zealand, Australia, South Africa, China, India and Canada.

RAIN, SLEET CREATE HAVOC WITH TRAFFIC

WORST EFFECTS OF INCLEMENT WEATHER REPORTED AT ROCHESTER

WATERS OF ZUMBRO RIVER RISE AND NOW OUT OF BANKS

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Minnesota's traffic and communication facilities were being restored to normal service today after disruption by rain and sleet during the past 24 hours.

The worst effects of the inclement weather was reported at Rochester, where the waters of the Zumbro river were out of its banks.

The river last night was reported about ten feet above normal level the Municipal golf course and other lands in that vicinity of Rochester were inundated. To prevent further damage the ice-jams were dynamited.

Since no houses or business buildings are in the vicinity of the water rise, the damage was not considered great, although a considerable number of blasts were necessary to prevent further spread of the rushing waters.

Other small streams in the vicinity of Rochester were reported to have risen considerably.

Bus traffic in most parts of the state returned to normal schedule today after curtailment of services because of the dangerous conditions of the state's roads, especially in the northern portion of Minnesota.

Colder temperatures last night caused some snowfall and gave automobiles and buses better footing.

Many telephone and telegraph wires were reported seriously affected by the sleet which fell during Tuesday, although nearly all lines were reported working this morning.

The greatest difficulties in telephone service was reported in the vicinity of St. Cloud. Farther north the sleet was reported the worst in years. Telephone and telegraph communication was halted temporarily in the vicinity of Pipestone.

Scores of minor automobile accidents were reported in the Twin Cities and on highways of the state. The streets in St. Paul and Minneapolis were transformed for the most part to sheets of ice. Pedestrians had difficulty in walking on sidewalks in all parts of the cities.

More snow in the southeastern portion of the state was promised for today by local weather forecasters with fair weather the promise for Thursday in all parts of the state.

Rochester, Minn., Feb. 8.—(UP)—The flood danger which last night threatened Rochester apparently was allayed today when the Zumbro river, at a ten foot above normal stage was at a stand.

Throughout the night dynamite blasts used to break away ice jams were heard throughout the city. Early today most of the larger jams had been broken up, and with the river flowing in a freer course, a drop is expected before night.

An inch of snow fell late last night followed by hard rains Monday and Tuesday. Bear and Silver creeks which empty into the Zumbro were raging streams.

An ice jam at Mayo park, in the heart of the city caused a backing of the water, and part of the lower sections of the plot were flooded. During the time workmen were setting off 15 blasts needed to breakup the ice formation, the stream rose 6 inches an hour.

No residences or business buildings were endangered today. The Municipal golf course was partly submerged, and on the outskirts of the city several farms were inundated.

Workmen during the night concentrated on saving the Northwestern railroad bridge over the Zumbro, where ice was jamming in its rapid course downstream.

BULLET FIRED AT PASTOR AS HE GAVE A VESPER SERMON

Newark, N. J., Feb. 8.—(UP)—While he was delivering a vesper sermon, the Rev. Dr. Clarence Bleakney, pastor of the Roseville Baptist church, was injured by showering glass when a bullet pierced a window behind him.

Dr. Bleakney insisted today he had no enemies who would want to take his life. Police continued to work on a theory of attempted murder, however.

MAINTENANCE OF ROADS IN WINTER

A YEAR ago the Standard Oil Company men of Duluth held a sales convention in Brainerd and salesmen from the Brainerd, Wadena and Bemidji districts were in attendance. It was not a 100 per cent attendance, for some of the salesmen were so well snowed in that they could not get to town. It was the first winter that the state had made a determined effort to keep the trunk roads open. It meant a lot of work.

Some of the counties were not so well equipped with snow plows and the town had no plow either. Winter motoring was getting a few devotees who ventured forth with a snow shovel while less courageous motorists kept their cars on stilts in garages.

Since then everything had changed. The Standard Oil men came to town yesterday for their annual sales convention and every man was present and every man had motored the entire distance. Winter motoring is now an assured fact and very few people put their cars away for the winter.

Winter maintenance has now become a regular and important feature of trunk highway work, according to C. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner. When the state took over the trunk highways in 1921, Mr. Babcock pointed out, summer maintenance was all that was necessary, for nearly all motorists laid up their cars in winter. A series of open winters, however, permitted many drivers to continue the use of their cars all winter.

The highway department then began to keep its maintenance forces at work on a part-time basis during the winter, both to protect roads where there was heavy travel and a bare surface, and to plow some routes when it snowed. Two years ago a snow removal program covering the entire system was adopted. The winter of 1926-1927 was unusually severe, but the department was able to keep the trunk routes 90 per cent open.

The winter of 1927-1928 started out to beat the preceding winter, and December broke the records for both snow and cold for several decades. The department was able to open a majority of the routes within two or three days after each of the two severe storms in that month and to have nearly all open in less than a week. Snow fence and snow plowing equipment have been added each year and in normal snowfall all routes can be opened in a day or two after a storm.

Many counties have also taken up the problem of keeping the roads open in winter. Sixty-two counties have more or less snow fences in use this winter, and 36 own or operate plows. Many more are considering the question.

Keeping the roads open in winter requires preparation and organization in advance, but in a few years keeping the roads open in winter will probably be as much of a part of regular routine in most counties as summer maintenance.

Estimates of the department show that the snow plowing done by the state and the counties brings 80 per cent of the population of the state within a mile of an open road in the winter. The extra gasoline tax received because roads are open so people can drive in winter, is more than ample to pay the cost of keeping the trunk routes open. The people who do not drive therefore are not taxed for winter maintenance of the state routes.

Within the past week they have come from Australia, Hawaii, South America, South Africa, Nigeria, and many points in Europe. There is every indication that this will be Minnesota's greatest tourist season, and that many thousands who never have spent their vacations in this state before will be added to those who will return."

BOARD CONSIDERS GYM UNFEASIBLE FOR PLAY

Will Pay Difference of $40 in Rental to Hold Class Play in Park Theatre

75 CORDS WOOD PURCHASED

Fuel Committee Will Purchase 45-60 Tons Coal for Washington Building

Members of the Board of Education at their Monday evening meeting following a lengthy discussion on the advisability of renovation of the high school gymnasium to provide for the installation of a standard stage with electrical effects to take care of the senior class play to be held the early part of March and other school dramas, decided to discard the proposition and on motion offered to pay the difference in cost in the rental fee of the Park theatre charged this year over the figure of last year.

The board felt that due to a possible fire hazard it would be unwise for the students to stage their class play in the gymnasium.

The proposition to stage the class play in the high school gymnasium was first considered by the student body who felt that a great deal of the expense involved in putting on the play at the theatre could be eliminated by conducting the play in the school.

B. Perry Newton, scout executive, offered his services gratis to the student body and the board in arranging the lighting and curtain effects. He was present at the board meeting to answer questions pertaining to the handling of the electricity for the stage.

Due to added cost of reconnecting water pipes and putting the theatre back into use again for the play the fee for one night which was placed at $100 last year was boosted this year to $140, board members reported.

The spring vacation for Brainerd schools will start on March 30 and will reopen April 9, the board decided.

Secretary Louis F. Hohman reported that the First National bank had offered to the board the use of a vault in the basement of their building in which to store past record books if they desired to use it until the vault was again needed by the bank. The offer was accepted with thanks and the finance committee was directed to look over the vault to decide whether or not it could be used.

The fuel committee reported acceptance of the bid of the Gould, Gray Co. to furnish 75 cords of green wood to be delivered to the various school buildings. The committee reported they would endeavor to purchase on the open market the additional 75 cords required. The report was accepted and the committee directed to purchase 45 to 60 tons of coal for the Washington building.

The matter of purchase of portable pianos for the Lincoln, Harrison and Whittier schools was brought to the attention of the board and the president was instructed to appoint a committee of five, one from each ward to investigate and report at the next regular meeting.

Superintendent W. C. Cobb's report for the month of January follows:

In making this monthly report of the schools for January, 1928, it will be of interest to compare it with my report to the Board for January, 1927. The total enrollment to date, in all the schools, at the close of January, 1928, is 2181, as compared with a corresponding figure at the close of January, 1927, of 2147. The average attendance for the month of January, of this year, shows a still more striking increase in the actual size of the schools as compared with the attendance for January of last year. The figures are:

January, 1927, total attendance, 1920.8.

January, 1928, total attendance, 2069.5.

The attendance for the month of January, of this year, shows an increase in every school and department of the city as compared with last year, of which the increase is most marked at the Lincoln with its average attendance of 357 for the present year as compared with 308 for January of last year. The increase at the Whittier is represented by the figures 206 last year and 225 this year. In the other schools the increase is less noticeable. The distribution of pupils in the schools is given in the tabulation below, which the secretary may well omit in his reading, as the summaries have been given in the paragraph just read:

Original Entry	Average Belonging	Average Attendance	Now Entries for the Month
High School and
Mixed Grade	563	534.05	521.55
Lowell School	442	419.375	408.725
Harrison School	372	353.72	346.32
Lincoln School	392	366	357
Whittier School	247	232.725	225.52
Riverside School	69	64.07	61.675
Garfield School	53	51.05	49.4
Advanced Eighth Grade	32	30.2	28.4
Normal Training Dept.	11	11	11
	2181	2062.190	2009.59

In order to make room for a primary class for the South Side, Lincoln and Harrison districts, we have recently transferred the Normal Training Department from the High School building to the basement room at the Whittier. This transfer necessitated some repair work in the which was attended to by the chairman of the Building Committee and makes a very respectable room under the circumstances. The occupancy of this basement room now leaves no unoccupied space, so far as I am aware, in any school building in Brainerd.

It is the intention to open a primary room, both morning and afternoon sessions, within the next few days, at the Washington school, if it meets the approval of the Board, and provision for a teacher for this room should be made at the Board meeting this evening.

The response to the suggestion of an evening class in cooking for housekeepers in Brainerd has been greater than was anticipated, and 37 women in Brainerd are already enrolled and are meeting on Tuesday and Thursday evenings for instruction in different phases in the science and art of cooking. The class is divided into two sections and the course will consist of a series of ten or twelve lessons. The instructional cost will be about $3.00 per evening for Miss Sersen, which will need to be paid for by the members who take the course or by the Board of Education or by a fifty-fifty arrangement as is done in the case of the adult class of foreigners. I should like some action taken by the School Board on this matter so that the members of the class may be informed on the matter as soon as possible.

Miss Ora Kever, State Inspector of Home Economics Departments, visited and inspected our Department this morning and indicated that we were meeting the State requirements for State Aid in these Departments.

Since the last meeting of the Board, I have gathered data concerning kindergarten departments, and find that there are, at the present time, about sixty towns in the State that maintain such departments, which includes the three large cities of Minnesota, most of the Range cities, and a majority of the cities of the size of Brainerd, including Winona, Rochester, Mankato, Owatonna, Cloquet, Austin, and Bemidji and St. Cloud. Faribault, Crookston, Moorhead, Fergus Falls, Albert Lea, are some of the more prominent towns that have not yet installed kindergartens and in addition the majority of the smaller cities, but the tendency appears to be trending toward the kindergarten each year.

The date for the spring vacation should be fixed by the Board at this meeting and I would recommend that the vacation be fixed the same as last year, so as to include Holy Week, beginning on Friday, March 30, with schools reopening on Monday, April 9.

CITY SELLS IRON WORKS OF FORMER JAIL FOR 1 BUCK

The city is out $4 but has shown that it has a generous heart. The council last night granted the request of the Ironton village council for purchase of the iron works of the interior of the old city "hoosegow" that has long ago gone out of existence.

The "iron works" include bars, old railings, and beds. The Ironton council in their request made an offer of $5 for the "works." It was no indication of the value but would show a clear deed of sale. The city council went them one better and offered "the works" for one dollar provided the old cell house be not impaired in the removal of the iron.

DULUTH TRAINMEN FETED AT BANQUET

Zenith City Lodge Transfers Charter to Brainerd For One Day Last Sunday

FIFTY IN ATTENDANCE

Wives Entertained by Brainerd Ladies at Home of Mrs. W. F. Dougherty

Brainerd members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and their wives Sunday entertained members of the Duluth Lodge No. 569 at a banquet in the Ransford hotel, covers being placed for 50.

The Duluth lodge previously had secured permission from the grand lodge at Cleveland to transfer their charter to Brainerd for the one day to give the Brainerd members an opportunity to attend the meeting in full force.

V. E. Quamstrom fulfilled the post of toastmaster in an able manner. Mayor Frank E. Little welcomed the Duluth members and their wives to Brainerd and expressed the wish that they might visit Brainerd and the lake region during the tourist season. Others who spoke were George E. Lowe, yardmaster at Brainerd, A. M. Kennedy, president of the lodge and H. Y. Torey, secretary.

Following the banquet the Brainerd ladies entertained the visiting ladies at the home of Mrs. W. F. Dougherty while the men held a business session. The visitors returned to Duluth on the 6:10 p. m. train.

An Old Recipe to Darken Hair

By JANICE RANDALL

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

BOARD CONSIDERS GYM UNFEASIBLE FOR PLAY

Will Pay Difference of $40 in Rental to Hold Class Play in Park Theatre

75 CORDS WOOD PURCHASED

Fuel Committee Will Purchase 45-60 Tons Coal for Washington Building

Members of the Board of Education at their Monday evening meeting following a lengthy discussion on the advisability of renovation of the high school gymnasium to provide for the installation of a standard stage with electrical effects to take care of the senior class play to be held the early part of March and other school dramatics, decided to discard the proposition and on motion offered to pay the difference in cost in the rental fee of the Park theatre charged this year over the figure of last year.

The board felt that due to a possible fire hazard it would be unwise for the students to stage their class play in the gymnasium.

The proposition to stage the class play in the high school gymnasium was first considered by the student body who felt that a great deal of the expense involved in putting on the play at the theatre could be eliminated by conducting the play in the school.

B. Perry Newton, scout executive, offered his services gratis to the student body and the board in arranging the lighting and curtain effects. He was present at the board meeting to answer questions pertaining to the handling of the electricity for the stage.

Due to added cost of reconnecting water pipes and putting the theatre back into use again for the play the fee for one night which was placed at $100 last year was boosted this year to $140, board members reported.

The spring vacation for Brainerd schools will start on March 30 and will reopen April 9, the board decided.

Secretary Louis F. Hohman reported that the First National bank had offered to the board the use of a vault in the basement of their building in which to store past record books if they desired to use it until the vault was again needed by the bank. The offer was accepted with thanks and the finance committee was directed to look over the vault to decide whether or not it could be used.

The fuel committee reported acceptance of the bid of the Gould, Gray Co. to furnish 75 cords of green wood to be delivered to the various school buildings. The committee reported they would endeavor to purchase on the open market the additional 75 cords required. The report was accepted and the committee directed to purchase 45 to 60 tons of coal for the Washington building.

The matter of purchase of portable pianos for the Lincoln, Harrison and Whittier schools was brought to the attention of the board and the president was instructed to appoint a committee of five, one from each ward to investigate and report at the next regular meeting.

Superintendent W. C. Cobb's report for the month of January follows:

In making this monthly report of the schools for January, 1928, it will be of interest to compare it with my report to the Board for January, 1927. The total enrollment to date, in all the schools, at the close of January, 1928, is 2181, as compared with a corresponding figure at the close of January, 1927, of 2147. The average attendance for the month of January, of this year, shows a still more striking increase in the actual size of the schools as compared with the attendance for January of last year. The figures are:

January, 1927, total attendance, 1920.8.

January, 1928, total attendance, 2069.5.

The attendance for the month of January, of this year, shows an increase in every school and department of the city as compared with last year, of which the increase is most marked at the Lincoln with its average attendance of 357 for the present year as compared with 308 for January of last year. The increase at the Whittier is represented by the figures 206 last year and 225 this year. In the other schools the increase is less noticeable. The distribution of pupils in the schools is given in the tabulation below, which the secretary may well omit in his reading, as the summaries have been given in the paragraph just read:

In order to make room for a primary class for the South Side, Lincoln and Harrison districts, we have recently transferred the Normal Training Department from the High School building to the basement room at the Whittier. This transfer necessitated some repair work in the which was attended to by the chairman of the Building Committee and makes a very respectable room under the circumstances. The occupancy of this basement room now leaves no unoccupied space, so far as I am aware, in any school building in Brainerd.

It is the intention to open a primary room, both morning and afternoon sessions, within the next few days, at the Washington school, if it meets the approval of the Board, and provision for a teacher for this room should be made at the Board meeting this evening.

The response to the suggestion of an evening class in cooking for housekeepers in Brainerd has been greater than was anticipated, and 37 women in Brainerd are already enrolled and are meeting on Tuesday and Thursday evenings for instruction in different phases in the science and art of cooking. The class is divided into two sections and the course will consist of a series of ten or twelve lessons. The instructional cost will be about $3.00 per evening for Miss Sersen, which will need to be paid for by the members who take the course or by the Board of Education or by a fifty-fifty arrangement as is done in the case of the adult class of foreigners. I should like some action taken by the School Board on this matter so that the members of the class may be informed on the matter as soon as possible.

Miss Ora Kever, State Inspector of Home Economics Departments, visited this morning and indicated that we were meeting the State requirements for State Aid in these Departments.

Since the last meeting of the Board, I have gathered data concerning kindergarten departments, and find that there are, at the present time, about sixty towns in the State that maintain such departments, which includes the three large cities of Minnesota, most of the Range cities, and a majority of the cities of the size of Brainerd, including Winona, Rochester, Mankato, Owatonna, Cloquet, Austin, and Bemidji and St. Cloud. Tired and Achy Mornings? Too Often This Warns of Sluggish Kidneys.

DOES morning find you stiff, achy—"all worn out"? Do you feel tired and drowsy—suffer nagging backache, headache and dizzy spells? Are the kidney secretions scanty and burning in passage? Too often this indicates sluggish kidneys and shouldn't be neglected.

Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, increase the secretion of the kidneys and thus aid in the elimination of waste impurities. Users everywhere endorse Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Skin Break Out?

Try the thing that really works—that actually clears up the skin and leaves it smooth and white. Sulphur in combination with menthol does it! The germ destroying action of sulphur clears the skin, while menthol heals the sore and broken tissue. Twofold action for perfect results! Pimples, blackheads, acne—even fiery eczema—positively yields. Rowles Menthol Sulphur is inexpensive and all druggists supply it in jars ready to use. Be sure it's Rowles.

An Old Recipe to Darken Hair

By JANICE RANDALL

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

SPORTSMATTER

BY FRANK GETTY

UNITED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

The second annual Olympic winter sports will start this week at St. Moritz, Switzerland.

The United States is represented by a strong team, including speedskaters, ski-men, figure skaters and bob-sleighters.

A victory in a majority of the events on the winter program would start this country off on the right track towards another triumph in another Olympiad, but those familiar with conditions under which the sports at St. Moritz are to be conducted predict strong competition from the French and the Germans.

Germany is making a particularly strong bid for Olympic honors this year, and would have no objection to starting in right away with a victory in the winter games.

These games, of course, do not compare in importance with those at Amsterdam next July, but there is no harm in winning them, if one has a mind to do so.

Germany and France have entered the strongest teams. Strangely enough, Japan is to be represented in the winter sports. There is a Japanese team in the 50 kilometre ski race, the 18-kilometre ski race, the ski-jumping and the combination race.

American men and women are entered in 11 events, as follows: speed skating, figure skating for men, and for women, couple skating, ski-running and jumping, two ski races and one event for jumpers, what is known as a skeleton race, the ice hockey matches and bob-sleighting.

Twenty-four nations, a record number, are taking part in this week's program at St. Moritz.

As for the Olympic games at Amsterdam, which will come later in the year, no little dissatisfaction is being expressed in connection with the water sports.

European rowing authorities are squawking about the facilities for the crews which will compete at Amsterdam.

The strip of water selected for the Olympic races is exceedingly narrow. Only two boats can row abreast on the course chosen by the Netherlands Olympic Committee.

Since between 30 and 40 crews will compete, each of the survivors must row four races in five days.

With plans completed for sending to Amsterdam a capable team of American boxers, it is interesting to note that Great Britain also will be represented in boxing at the 1928 Olympic Games.

A special meeting of the Amateur Boxing Association of Great Britain recently passed a resolution to send a team of boxers to the 9th Olympiad. This over-ruled a previous decision.

The British will be represented in the rowing events at Amsterdam, also, although the British Amateur Rowing Association has voted not to send crews.

The National Amateur Rowing Association, which has almost as much to say where water sports are concerned, has decided to send a crew to the Olympics.

Here's your "furthest North" for cool smoking!

AND right away, here's why: Because Granger is made from quality tobacco, naturally cool-burning—and then it's "Rough Cut." Not granulated into fast-burning chips, but—cut in big, slow-burning shaggy flakes, the one way pipe tobacco should be cut.

Everything a pipe tobacco should be, in good taste and quality; and above everything else—cool! Men, thousands of 'em, from bankers to bakers, from Bangor to Bakersfield, tell us that Granger is the smoothest, coolest smoke that ever rolled over a pipe-lover's tongue.

SPORTSMATTER

BY FRANK GETTY
UNITED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

The second annual Olympic winter sports will start this week at St. Moritz, Switzerland.

The United States is represented by a strong team, including speedskaters, ski-men, figure skaters and bob-sleighters.

A victory in a majority of the events on the winter program would start this country off on the right track towards another triumph in another Olympiad, but those familiar with conditions under which the sports at St. Moritz are to be conducted predict strong competition from the French and the Germans.

Germany is making a particularly strong bid for Olympic honors this year, and would have no objection to starting in right away with a victory in the winter games.

These games, of course, do not compare in importance with those at Amsterdam next July, but there is no harm in winning them, if one has a mind to do so.

Germany and France have entered the strongest teams. Strangely enough, Japan is to be represented in the winter sports. There is a Japanese team in the 50 kilometre ski race, the 18-kilometre ski race, the ski-jumping and the combination race.

American men and women are entered in 11 events, as follows: speed skating, figure skating for men, and for women, couple skating, ski-running and jumping, two ski races and one event for jumpers, what is known as a skeleton race, the ice hockey matches and bob-sleighting.

Twenty-four nations, a record number, are taking part in this week's program at St. Moritz.

As for the Olympic games at Amsterdam, which will come later in the year, no little dissatisfaction is being expressed in connection with the water sports.

European rowing authorities are squawking about the facilities for the crews which will compete at Amsterdam.

The strip of water selected for the Olympic races is exceedingly narrow. Only two boats can row abreast on the course chosen by the Netherlands Olympic Committee.

Since between 30 and 40 crews will compete, each of the survivors must row four races in five days.

With plans completed for sending to Amsterdam a capable team of American boxers, it is interesting to note that Great Britain also will be represented in boxing at the 1928 Olympic Games.

A special meeting of the Amateur Boxing Association of Great Britain recently passed a resolution to send a team of boxers to the 9th Olympiad. This over-ruled a previous decision.

The British will be represented in the rowing events at Amsterdam, also, although the British Amateur Rowing Association has voted not to send crews. The National Amateur Rowing Association, which has almost as much to say where water sports are concerned, has decided to send a crew to the Olympics.

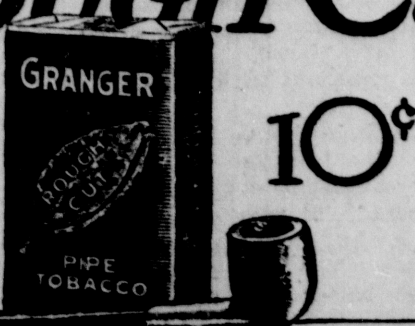

Here's your "furfthest North" for cool smoking!

AND right away, here's why: Because Granger is made from quality tobacco, naturally cool-burning—and then it's "Rough Cut." Not granulated into fast-burning chips, but—cut in big, slow-burning shaggy flakes, the one way pipe tobacco should be cut.

Everything a pipe tobacco should be, in good taste and quality; and above everything else—cool! Men, thousands of 'em, from bankers to bakers, from Bangor to Bakersfield, tell us that Granger is the smoothest, coolest smoke that ever rolled over a pipe-lover's tongue.

GRANGER ROUGH CUT

No costly tin; sensibly packed in heavy foil; hence the price.
